Higher Normal School of Saida
UNIVERSITY of SAIDA Dr MOULAY TAHAR

Students:
Cherifi Leila Nour Elhouda
Djellouli Allaa Abir

Under the supervision of
Ms.Azzeddine Bencherab

Reaching Struggling Students

Understanding, Identifying & Supporting Learners

introduction

Some students face academic or behavioral challenges that affect their learning and classroom environment. Recognizing their unique needs and providing early support is essential to help them succeed.

Definition

A struggling student rarely turs completed assignments, poor quiz/test results, might work longer than others, makes very little progress.

How can teachers help?

- Using charts and pictures
- Using differentiated instruction (VAK)
- Providing small group support
- Giving immediate feedback;
- Encouraging and motivating them
- Involving parents

Why do students struggle in schools?

- Ineffective teaching
- Lack of differentiation
- Family problem.
- Financial stress.
- Trauma/ Bullying.

Impact on students' studies

- Low motivation
- Dropping out of schoo
- Risk of failure
- Dropping out of school

Why should teachers intervene?

- Improve classroom environment
- Encourage inclusion
- Prevent future failures
- Encourage inclusion

How to identify struggling students?

Consistent below-average performance.
Disengagement.
Incomplete work
Withdrawal or frustration

Conclusion

Struggling students require early identification & structured support as effective interventions benefit: the student, the family, and the school community

References